eNETEmployer - Recruitment and Applicant Tracking

Manage your recruitment needs electronically. From when a candidate reads your job post and submits their application, to when you receive their resume and setup an interview. The Applicant Tracking System helps you efficiently track each candidate throughout the hiring progress.

Recruitment/Applicant Tracking

HR managers and their assigned team members can create, edit and post jobs, review resumes/applications, and rate potential candidates.

Use the Document Storage feature to store each applicant's submitted files. Assign a five-star rating to top candidates and include comments that can be reviewed by each member of your hiring team.

Link the job to your company's "Employment Opportunities" web page, and then watch your email Inbox as you are notified of new job applications. Each candidate's data is secure and available 24/7.

Custom Job Questionnaires

All job postings can be assigned a series of customized questions that will allow the system to automatically sort the top candidates.

The built-in weighting system evaluates the importance of each response when calculating the applicant's overall score. If a certain question is more important, then you simply assign a higher weighting value.

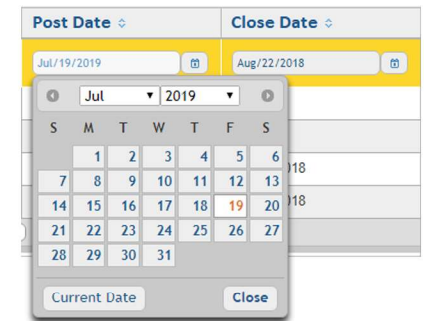

Name	Question	Weight

	Are you available for weekend and evening shiftwork?	50

Track the status of each applicant during the entire hiring phase.

Automatic Job Postings

Job postings can be assigned future start and end dates - this allows the job to appear online automatically and to be removed when the posting period is complete. Automating the process means you'll never have to remember to manually add or remove a job.

Use the built-in Calendar to schedule job postings for activation weeks in advance.
